Not “Just” A Green Transition (NJUST)

“To contribute to achieve a just green transition by focusing on policies and measures to support the Nordic people who are experiencing the transition first-hand. This will be done through producing a knowledge base on just green transition and how the green transition impacts individuals and especially vulnerable groups (e.g. unemployed, those at risk of unemployment, elderly, children and persons with disabilities).”

Main research questions:

What are the perceptions of the green transition among people in different regions and in different social groups in the Nordic region?

How can we create policies for a just green transition?

Not “Just” A Green Transition (NJUST)

Not “just” a green transition – Examining the path towards a socially just green transition in the Nordic region (NJUST)

A cross sectoral research project initiated and funded by Nordic Council of Ministers

Aim: Contribute to a just green transition in the Nordic region by producing and sharing knowledge on green transition impacts on vulnerable groups and policies to mitigate negative effects.

Project time: 2021-2024

Budget approx. 7.5 MSEK

Nordregio responsible for implementation. Nordic Council of Ministers’ representatives steering group. Collaboration with Nordic Expert Group for Sustainable development, Nordic Welfare Center, Nordic Civil Society Network and stakeholders.

The four pillars of the project

Knowledge -Building the knowledge base
